Broadside Chronicles

MURKS-THE QUANTA

To the aid of Broadsiders has come a group of independent special forces known as Murks. They have formed The Quanta, a collective of seasoned professionals uniquely specialized. Their primary objective is to provide the full scope of their resources to aid the Broadside alliance. They believe in the cause. Their individual learned skills from the many years of involvement in dark ops has made each a force to reckon with. But when combined, their cumulative abilities become exponential. There are five categories of specialization consisting of 36 members in each category. Each individual member has been vetted for their exemplary abilities in their area of specialization.

Proto Corp

In the dystopian world of Proto we find Broadsiders at a disadvantage. Regardless of the amount of material, 3D printed or otherwise, their knowledge and expertise to utilize their defenses and develop strategies of engagement is limited. Their guerilla style skirmishes while beneficial in the short term only makes them more vulnerable long term as Proto's AI quickly adapts.
